

SHEETS ARRESTS ALLEGED FORGER

Had a Number of Checks in His Possession.

TRIED TWICE TO ESCAPE

SECOND TIME HE GOT AS FAR AS GATE OF COUNTY JAIL.

After making two determined efforts to regain his liberty, and almost succeeding in the second attempt, J. R. Masters, an alleged forger, was last night landed in the county jail. Masters, an alleged forger, was last night landed in the county jail. Masters, an alleged forger, was last night landed in the county jail.

Masters attempted to pass a check for $10 drawn on the Freed Furniture company at A. C. Spears' candy kitchen, on Second South street. The check looked suspicious to Mr. Spears, and he refused to cash it. After Masters left the store, Chief Sheets came in and a description of the alleged forger was given him. The chief arrested Masters on East Second South street. The latter made a vigorous attempt to break away, but the chief seized him by the collar and trousers and lugged him to the police station. En route Masters attempted to dispose of the checks in his possession, but the eye of the chief was too sharp for him.

Apparently Raised the Checks.

At the station Masters fought and struggled against being searched, but it was accomplished despite his resistance. In his possession were found checks on Walker Bros. bank for $5 and $10, signed by the Freed Furniture company; another on McCormick's bank, signed J. A. Horth & Co., and another on the National Bank of the Republic, by Melvin D. Wells, for $20. The latter, the officers think, was a good check for $2, but had been altered and raised to $20. The erasure of the "two" was not detected. The other checks are said to be clear forgeries.

Masters refused to tell anything about himself at the station. Letters in his possession showed that he was a married man. He stated that he was in the city to keep away from San Francisco, for the officers there were looking for him.

After the prisoner had been searched he was turned over to Officer Milner to be transferred to the county jail in the patrol wagon. He remained perfectly quiet during the trip. No sooner had he gotten inside of the office of the jail when, as the officer released him to open the door, Masters made a dash from the room. Officer Milner and Jailer Wilkinson gave chase. Masters ran around the corner and started for the front gate, but he was caught by Officer Milner, who is something of a sprinter, caught him as he attempted to jump over the gate, which was closed.

Masters struggled against being returned to the jail, but he was unequal to the combined strength of the two officers and was forced to submit.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

BANK CLEARINGS.—Yesterday's bank clearings were $157,247. For the same day a year ago they were $181,336.

REDEMPTION OF WARRANTS.—County Treasurer William O. Carbis announced yesterday that he is ready to all registered warrants registered under number 59,361, and that interest upon the same ceases from today.

RIDS NOT OPENED.—At the meeting for liberty park were not opened as the two bids for the proposed greenhouse guards last night. A letter from the board was informed that on Monday a third one would be submitted.

LAYING SIDEWALKS.—Acting on instructions from Councilman J. J. Thoms, Contractor Lorenzo Price has begun laying sidewalks on Ninth East street between Ninth and Tenth streets. The work was started on Monday.

PRESENT FOR HAMILIN.—As a token of the appreciation of the legislature, Representative A. L. Hamlin was presented yesterday with a handsome moustache umbrella by the penitentiary guards last night. The umbrella is in behalf of the guards took the present to Mr. Hamlin's residence and made the presentation.

HORTICULTURISTS MEETING.—The Salt Lake County Horticultural society will hold a special meeting at 8 o'clock in the joint building for the purpose of taking some action upon the appointment of two committees to visit upon Governor Wells and the board of county commissioners on matters relative to a fruit exhibit at St. Louis. Address all communications to W. H. Hamlin.

Utah Commercial and Savings Bank.—General banking business; interest paid on savings deposits. W. F. Armstrong, president; J. E. Calkin, cashier.

Castle Gate, Clear Creek, Winter Quarters.—Sunshine jump, nut and slack; anthracite (all sizes). 73 South Main street, telephone 429.

D. J. SHARP, Agent.

What about the Piano?
Is it not about time you had one? Your credit is good with us. Better call and see us. Easy payments if desired. For fine tuning telephones 165-2. YANSEN, 72, ELDERBERRY, 22 Main St., directly opp. Z. C. M. L.

Wolstenholme Coal Co., Tel. 495.
Diamond Coal. 51 W. Second South.

Dr. A. Scott—Dentist, now located room 2, Walker Bank building.

Everybody drinks Manitou water, the water that made Colorado famous.

UTAH LIQUOR CO.

Modern Plumbing.
At moderate prices. George G. Doyle & Co., 211 State street. Phone 162.

Dr. E. M. Keyser's method of filling teeth is painless. 162 Main street, Auerbach building. Telephone 1120 K.

Honest Plumbers.
I. M. Hiley & Co., 109 East First South. Phone 124.

Pants to order. $2.50 and $4. from Provo Cloth. Suits to order, $18, $20. Cutler Bros. Co., 35 Main street.

In New York and Chicago greater lines of fine silks are not carried—Lyons' finest and fashionable pattern. Just look in the windows—the displays talk. Keith-O'Brien company.

OGDEN AND RETURN, $1.00.

Via R. G. W., Sunday, March 29.
July Fly club. First outing. Everybody invited. Train leaves Salt Lake 7:50 a. m. Returning, leaves Ogden 7:15 p. m.

Dr. Mack has again resumed practice at his offices, Hooper building.

LEFT ALONE TO DIE

Friends Abandon Joseph Wilcox, Who Had Broken Ribs and Pneumonia.

Suffering from two broken ribs and gasping for breath in the last stages of pneumonia, Joseph Wilcox, a miner from Brigham, lay without attention in a commercial street rooming house from Wednesday night until he was found by the police last evening. He is now at the Joseph-Wright hospital. His chances for recovery, it is said, are meager.

Wilcox and several of his friends who had been working in the Yampa mine at Bingham came to the city Wednesday, and that night drank together in the saloon on the corner of Commercial and First South streets. Wilcox and one of his companions got into a friendly scuffle with another man at 15 Commercial street, and broken a bed. In this room, with no attention save that in the way of food given him by the proprietor, Wilcox lay until late last night.

Dr. C. M. Benedict, who was called in to attend another patient, heard the groans of the injured man and made inquiries. He was informed the man had been working in the Yampa mine and found that Wilcox had developed pneumonia and was in a dying condition. The doctor reported the case to the police, who informed them that Wilcox could not live until morning unless he was taken to a hospital where he could have proper nursing.

Sergeant Hempel found some of Wilcox's friends, and although they knew he was sick and injured they said they were unable to do anything for him.

When questioned, the injured man said he had been working in the Yampa mine and was entitled to go to a hospital. Sergeant Hempel and Captain Burdick arranged with the Joseph-Wright hospital to accept him, and he was taken there in the patrol wagon.

Wilcox's friends, and although they knew he was sick and injured they said they were unable to do anything for him.

When questioned, the injured man said he had been working in the Yampa mine and was entitled to go to a hospital.

Sergeant Hempel and Captain Burdick arranged with the Joseph-Wright hospital to accept him, and he was taken there in the patrol wagon.

Wilcox's friends, and although they knew he was sick and injured they said they were unable to do anything for him.

When questioned, the injured man said he had been working in the Yampa mine and was entitled to go to a hospital.

Sergeant Hempel and Captain Burdick arranged with the Joseph-Wright hospital to accept him, and he was taken there in the patrol wagon.

Wilcox's friends, and although they knew he was sick and injured they said they were unable to do anything for him.

When questioned, the injured man said he had been working in the Yampa mine and was entitled to go to a hospital.

Sergeant Hempel and Captain Burdick arranged with the Joseph-Wright hospital to accept him, and he was taken there in the patrol wagon.

Wilcox's friends, and although they knew he was sick and injured they said they were unable to do anything for him.

When questioned, the injured man said he had been working in the Yampa mine and was entitled to go to a hospital.

Sergeant Hempel and Captain Burdick arranged with the Joseph-Wright hospital to accept him, and he was taken there in the patrol wagon.

Wilcox's friends, and although they knew he was sick and injured they said they were unable to do anything for him.

When questioned, the injured man said he had been working in the Yampa mine and was entitled to go to a hospital.

Sergeant Hempel and Captain Burdick arranged with the Joseph-Wright hospital to accept him, and he was taken there in the patrol wagon.

Wilcox's friends, and although they knew he was sick and injured they said they were unable to do anything for him.

When questioned, the injured man said he had been working in the Yampa mine and was entitled to go to a hospital.

Sergeant Hempel and Captain Burdick arranged with the Joseph-Wright hospital to accept him, and he was taken there in the patrol wagon.

Wilcox's friends, and although they knew he was sick and injured they said they were unable to do anything for him.

When questioned, the injured man said he had been working in the Yampa mine and was entitled to go to a hospital.

Sergeant Hempel and Captain Burdick arranged with the Joseph-Wright hospital to accept him, and he was taken there in the patrol wagon.

Wilcox's friends, and although they knew he was sick and injured they said they were unable to do anything for him.

When questioned, the injured man said he had been working in the Yampa mine and was entitled to go to a hospital.

Sergeant Hempel and Captain Burdick arranged with the Joseph-Wright hospital to accept him, and he was taken there in the patrol wagon.

Wilcox's friends, and although they knew he was sick and injured they said they were unable to do anything for him.

When questioned, the injured man said he had been working in the Yampa mine and was entitled to go to a hospital.

Sergeant Hempel and Captain Burdick arranged with the Joseph-Wright hospital to accept him, and he was taken there in the patrol wagon.

Wilcox's friends, and although they knew he was sick and injured they said they were unable to do anything for him.

When questioned, the injured man said he had been working in the Yampa mine and was entitled to go to a hospital.

Sergeant Hempel and Captain Burdick arranged with the Joseph-Wright hospital to accept him, and he was taken there in the patrol wagon.

Wilcox's friends, and although they knew he was sick and injured they said they were unable to do anything for him.

When questioned, the injured man said he had been working in the Yampa mine and was entitled to go to a hospital.

Sergeant Hempel and Captain Burdick arranged with the Joseph-Wright hospital to accept him, and he was taken there in the patrol wagon.

Wilcox's friends, and although they knew he was sick and injured they said they were unable to do anything for him.

When questioned, the injured man said he had been working in the Yampa mine and was entitled to go to a hospital.

Sergeant Hempel and Captain Burdick arranged with the Joseph-Wright hospital to accept him, and he was taken there in the patrol wagon.

Wilcox's friends, and although they knew he was sick and injured they said they were unable to do anything for him.

When questioned, the injured man said he had been working in the Yampa mine and was entitled to go to a hospital.

Sergeant Hempel and Captain Burdick arranged with the Joseph-Wright hospital to accept him, and he was taken there in the patrol wagon.

Wilcox's friends, and although they knew he was sick and injured they said they were unable to do anything for him.

When questioned, the injured man said he had been working in the Yampa mine and was entitled to go to a hospital.

Sergeant Hempel and Captain Burdick arranged with the Joseph-Wright hospital to accept him, and he was taken there in the patrol wagon.

Wilcox's friends, and although they knew he was sick and injured they said they were unable to do anything for him.

When questioned, the injured man said he had been working in the Yampa mine and was entitled to go to a hospital.

Sergeant Hempel and Captain Burdick arranged with the Joseph-Wright hospital to accept him, and he was taken there in the patrol wagon.

Wilcox's friends, and although they knew he was sick and injured they said they were unable to do anything for him.

When questioned, the injured man said he had been working in the Yampa mine and was entitled to go to a hospital.

Sergeant Hempel and Captain Burdick arranged with the Joseph-Wright hospital to accept him, and he was taken there in the patrol wagon.

Wilcox's friends, and although they knew he was sick and injured they said they were unable to do anything for him.

When questioned, the injured man said he had been working in the Yampa mine and was entitled to go to a hospital.

Sergeant Hempel and Captain Burdick arranged with the Joseph-Wright hospital to accept him, and he was taken there in the patrol wagon.

Wilcox's friends, and although they knew he was sick and injured they said they were unable to do anything for him.

When questioned, the injured man said he had been working in the Yampa mine and was entitled to go to a hospital.

Sergeant Hempel and Captain Burdick arranged with the Joseph-Wright hospital to accept him, and he was taken there in the patrol wagon.

Wilcox's friends, and although they knew he was sick and injured they said they were unable to do anything for him.

When questioned, the injured man said he had been working in the Yampa mine and was entitled to go to a hospital.

Sergeant Hempel and Captain Burdick arranged with the Joseph-Wright hospital to accept him, and he was taken there in the patrol wagon.

Wilcox's friends, and although they knew he was sick and injured they said they were unable to do anything for him.

When questioned, the injured man said he had been working in the Yampa mine and was entitled to go to a hospital.

Sergeant Hempel and Captain Burdick arranged with the Joseph-Wright hospital to accept him, and he was taken there in the patrol wagon.

Wilcox's friends, and although they knew he was sick and injured they said they were unable to do anything for him.

When questioned, the injured man said he had been working in the Yampa mine and was entitled to go to a hospital.

Sergeant Hempel and Captain Burdick arranged with the Joseph-Wright hospital to accept him, and he was taken there in the patrol wagon.

Wilcox's friends, and although they knew he was sick and injured they said they were unable to do anything for him.

When questioned, the injured man said he had been working in the Yampa mine and was entitled to go to a hospital.

Sergeant Hempel and Captain Burdick arranged with the Joseph-Wright hospital to accept him, and he was taken there in the patrol wagon.

Wilcox's friends, and although they knew he was sick and injured they said they were unable to do anything for him.

When questioned, the injured man said he had been working in the Yampa mine and was entitled to go to a hospital.

Sergeant Hempel and Captain Burdick arranged with the Joseph-Wright hospital to accept him, and he was taken there in the patrol wagon.

Wilcox's friends, and although they knew he was sick and injured they said they were unable to do anything for him.

When questioned, the injured man said he had been working in the Yampa mine and was entitled to go to a hospital.

Sergeant Hempel and Captain Burdick arranged with the Joseph-Wright hospital to accept him, and he was taken there in the patrol wagon.

Wilcox's friends, and although they knew he was sick and injured they said they were unable to do anything for him.

When questioned, the injured man said he had been working in the Yampa mine and was entitled to go to a hospital.

Sergeant Hempel and Captain Burdick arranged with the Joseph-Wright hospital to accept him, and he was taken there in the patrol wagon.

Wilcox's friends, and although they knew he was sick and injured they said they were unable to do anything for him.

When questioned, the injured man said he had been working in the Yampa mine and was entitled to go to a hospital.

Sergeant Hempel and Captain Burdick arranged with the Joseph-Wright hospital to accept him, and he was taken there in the patrol wagon.

Wilcox's friends, and although they knew he was sick and injured they said they were unable to do anything for him.

When questioned, the injured man said he had been working in the Yampa mine and was entitled to go to a hospital.

Sergeant Hempel and Captain Burdick arranged with the Joseph-Wright hospital to accept him, and he was taken there in the patrol wagon.

Wilcox's friends, and although they knew he was sick and injured they said they were unable to do anything for him.

When questioned, the injured man said he had been working in the Yampa mine and was entitled to go to a hospital.

Sergeant Hempel and Captain Burdick arranged with the Joseph-Wright hospital to accept him, and he was taken there in the patrol wagon.

Wilcox's friends, and although they knew he was sick and injured they said they were unable to do anything for him.

When questioned, the injured man said he had been working in the Yampa mine and was entitled to go to a hospital.

Sergeant Hempel and Captain Burdick arranged with the Joseph-Wright hospital to accept him, and he was taken there in the patrol wagon.

Wilcox's friends, and although they knew he was sick and injured they said they were unable to do anything for him.

When questioned, the injured man said he had been working in the Yampa mine and was entitled to go to a hospital.

Sergeant Hempel and Captain Burdick arranged with the Joseph-Wright hospital to accept him, and he was taken there in the patrol wagon.

Wilcox's friends, and although they knew he was sick and injured they said they were unable to do anything for him.

When questioned, the injured man said he had been working in the Yampa mine and was entitled to go to a hospital.

Sergeant Hempel and Captain Burdick arranged with the Joseph-Wright hospital to accept him, and he was taken there in the patrol wagon.

Wilcox's friends, and although they knew he was sick and injured they said they were unable to do anything for him.

When questioned, the injured man said he had been working in the Yampa mine and was entitled to go to a hospital.

Sergeant Hempel and Captain Burdick arranged with the Joseph-Wright hospital to accept him, and he was taken there in the patrol wagon.

Wilcox's friends, and although they knew he was sick and injured they said they were unable to do anything for him.

When questioned, the injured man said he had been working in the Yampa mine and was entitled to go to a hospital.

Sergeant Hempel and Captain Burdick arranged with the Joseph-Wright hospital to accept him, and he was taken there in the patrol wagon.

Wilcox's friends, and although they knew he was sick and injured they said they were unable to do anything for him.

When questioned, the injured man said he had been working in the Yampa mine and was entitled to go to a hospital.

Sergeant Hempel and Captain Burdick arranged with the Joseph-Wright hospital to accept him, and he was taken there in the patrol wagon.

Wilcox's friends, and although they knew he was sick and injured they said they were unable to do anything for him.

When questioned, the injured man said he had been working in the Yampa mine and was entitled to go to a hospital.

Call For County Warrants.
NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that all registered warrants under register number 59,361 are now payable at any time, and that interest on said warrants ceases from this date.
WILLIAM O. CARBIS,
County Treasurer,
Salt Lake City, Utah, March 28, 1903.

Expert Dentistry, Moderate Prices.
Dr. Kirkwood, 159 1/2 Main street.

Rock Springs, Castle Gate, Clear Creek, and Weber, Mass. Coal Co., 78 West Second South. Tel. 172.

DOMESTIC HELP AND SITUATIONS WANTED
ADVERTISEMENTS
Will be Accepted in these columns
Free of Charge.

FOR SALE—REAL ESTATE.

A 3x6-rod cor. lot, 5th E. and 8th So. Inquire H. T. Hiles, 306 E. 5th So.

OR TRADE for city property, farm and chicken ranch, 4-rm. house, and all improvements. A. J. Hancock, Martin Com. Co.

HOUSTON, THE HOUSES.
Have bargains in houses, 251 South Main.

WE SELL real estate—that's all. Little Bros., 149 Main street. Red ball signs.

OUR real estate paper gives reliable information on realty values. Free at office. Harrington & Courtney, Phone 81.

For cheap building lots on west side we have just the thing on 2d No. 10 lots that we will sell for $200. Little cash needed. Call and see about them. HOUSTON REAL ESTATE INC., 251 Main St.

THE FINEST terrace site in the city, corner 18th St. by 15 ft. to alley, only two blocks from Temple square. Inq. 22 West So. Temple St.

J. A. BROWN, Real Estate, Loans, Rents. No. 11 East First South. Phone 27. List if you want to sell.

6-ROOM brick, electric light, bath, sewer and porch. By owner. 170 E. 8th.

WE LEAD. all others follow. If you want a nice new 3 or 10-room thoroughly modern home on easy payments we have them on lot 50, bet. 19th and 20th streets. Modern home real estate inc., Phone 184 K.

SIX-ROOM new house, corner 6th E. and Clark. Tel. 1102. A real bargain.

BIG CORNER, 8 rods frontage; east side; shade; 5-room cottage; snap; $2,500. Room for three more houses. Harrington & Courtney, 70 W. 2d So.

SECURE MY PLUM LIST TODAY.
THIS list contains over 100 bargains in real estate. When you call for the plum list be sure and ask for a free copy of my Special Real Estate Buyer's Map of Salt Lake City. When you have the map and my plum list in your possession you are enabled to buy the greatest real estate bargains ever offered by any real estate agent in the city. Watch the Sunday papers for my map and plum list. A weekly shower of special real estate plums.

Donnan Real Estate, 78 W. 2d South, at the corner of "Whose Roof is Over Your Head?"

FORTY-ACRE farm, southeast of Salt Lake City; has 47 shares water right, fenced and subdivided into three enclosures; young orchard; five-room house; barn and outbuildings; all in good condition. Price, $2,000; will take part trade in house and lot in city. Water right and improvements $250. If at amount asked for the entire property. This is a rare chance to get a good farm at a bargain. We will sell $250.00 if at 6 per cent if desired. McGurkin & Co., 22 W. 2d South, Salt Lake City.

JOHN WEIR, JR., real estate and loans, moved to 206 S. West Temple, ground floor, Dooly block. Telephone 63.

3x5x5 CORNER lot, 1st and 4th rooms, $2,000. Owner, 118 So. 11th E.

On C. St., a splendid brick cottage, nearly new, corner lot, $2,300.

On 2d St., 3x10 rods, west front, cheap at $1,000.

A good and substantial 7-room, modern, 2-story brick on P. street, lot 3x10; good barn. On easy terms, $2,500.

A great many good lots in the southeast part of the city, including a pair of beautiful lots on Princeton ave. north of 10th South near 11th East and 7th South, for $250.

On 7th South near 7th East, near 4-room brick cottage, electric lights, water in the house, for $1,500.

On 12th South near 4th East, good 4-room brick, cemented cellar, good sized lot, must be sold at once, owner leaving city. Price $1,500.

Don't fail to see me if you are looking for a home or building spot.

A. Richter, 19 West 1st South, Tel. 61.